

Bar Camp

Thursday 21 November 2024 16:15 (1h 45m)

Bar Camps are participant-driven and the attendees decide the topics and shape the agenda. Here, we believe in the collective power of bright minds coming together to inspire and profit from each other. Bringing a topic to the Bar Camp is for you if

- you have a question you need an answer to,
- you encounter a challenge you would like to discuss,
- you want to share an innovative solution you have found for a challenge you faced during your research.

Your topics may for instance evolve around teaching practice, the field of tension between your daily work and capacity for teaching, different teaching settings or tools, and the like.

- No Pre-set Agenda: Rather than following a rigid schedule, in this session we go with the flow. Topics are proposed and selected by you!
- Diverse Voices: Everyone has a voice. Share your passion, engage in dynamic discussions, and learn from peers.
- Networking: Connect with like-minded individuals. The next big idea might be a conversation away!

If you have a topic for the Bar Camp session that you would like to discuss, please follow the instructions on the main page. You may of course also bring topics spontaneously on the spot at our conference!
