OpenEdX for Helmholtz

Monday 29 September 2025 15:10 (30 minutes)

The Helmholtz Cloud offers a wide variety of digital services for all members of the Helmholtz association. One of the newest of those services is the e-learning platform OpenEdX.

In this talks a brief introduction to the platform will be given, its features and workflows will be explained and we will give a quick introduction how you can use it to set up and run online courses and make most of the wide array of features it offers.
